

Missouri Urban Journalism Workshop

Saturday, July 8, to Friday, July 14
Missouri School of Journalism • Columbia, Mo.

Discover the fast-paced world of professional journalism during the Missouri Urban Journalism Workshop.

You learn how to cover issues, news and current events in an inclusive way. Some of your stories will be published in the School's award-winning, hands-on learning laboratories. Instruction will be guided by faculty experts at the Missouri School of Journalism and industry professionals.

Cost: $675

Includes all workshop activities, lodging in a University of Missouri residence hall, two meals per day in a campus dining facility and local transportation.

Travel to and from the workshop is the responsibility of the participant. Scholarships are available.

Highlights of your week will include:

- Mobile Technologies: Learn how to interview sources, shoot video, take photos—do everything you need for your story—while you're on location. In today's world, journalists can work from anywhere.
- Social Media: Use Twitter, Snapchat, Facebook and other social platforms to engage with the public, gather information and more for all stages of your reporting.
- Documentary Journalism: Go beyond day-turn reporting and be exposed to long-form storytelling. You'll learn new investigative and technical skills in this exercise.
- Data Journalism: Dig deep into publicly available information in government databases to discover facts and statistics. Learn how to produce graphics that visualize the information for the public.
- Lots More: Web design and production, narrative writing and story structure, other timely and current topics.

Your work may be published on the MUJW Urban Pioneer website and by professional, award-winning news outlets:

- Columbia Missourian: The city's only locally-owned newspaper
- KOMU-TV: Mid-Missouri's NBC affiliate
- KBIA-FM: Mid-Missouri's NPR affiliate

You can explore career options in journalism. You'll have opportunities to visit with Missouri School of Journalism faculty, be in the studio and production room during a KOMU newscast and more.
